EDITOR'S EDGE

Dear Sears Family:

It's déjà vu all over again. I thought I would get a newsletter done back in August and here it is the end of the year. It's been a crazy year again for me. I am back working for Northrop Grumman on a contract for the Air Force at Tinker AFB. This is newsletter number 20. Twelve years since I started working on the followup to the Sears Genealogical Catalogue. I only seem to be able to get one newsletter done each year so please don't expect more. I have also included a CD with this copy to give you much more data than I can print on paper. Look at the copyright file SearsJan2005.pdf for a 2,000 + page book of the descendants of Richard Sears.

Family Tree- I have a number of copies (12"x18") of the Richard Sears family tree in the masthead of our newsletter. Let me know if you want me to send you a copy or two. Email me: LRsears@CapeCod.net

Johannes Zaher

There are many branches of the Sears family in the United States. When emigrating to the US it was often easier to anglicize your family name to fit in better. Zaher, Cyr, Sayre, are just a few examples of names that were changed to Sears. From the Rowan Public Library, History & Genealogy Dept, Salisbury, NC via a Sears researcher, Twila Poli, I received the following article.

"Johannes Zaher was born in Switzerland about 1710. He came to America in 1740 as a religious refugee.

In the early 1500s, Martin Luther and John Calvin were leading the rebellion against the old system of religion. Those people who wanted a more radical reform were called Anabaptist (or rebaptizers) because of their stand against infant baptism. From this group came the Swiss Brethren, Mennonites and Amish. Related groups were Dunkards and Morovians. Many of these people were from an area in Switzerland called the Palatine and spoke the Palatine dialect, known today as Pennsylvania German or Pennsylvania Dutch. Many Anabaptists with a Swiss background migrated to Pennsylvania. The largest migrations were Mennonite (1717-1732) and Amish (1727-1754). We don't know any specifics about Johannes Zaher's religious beliefs, but his coming to a Morovian settlement in Pennsylvania in 1740 as a Swiss religious refugee would fit into this pattern.

Johannes Zaher first settled in the Morovian community of Euphrata, Pennsylvania. He anglicized his name to John Sears and moved to the Yadkin Valley in Rowan County, North Carolina. John Sears is known to have had two sons, John Jr. and Christian. John Sears Jr. served in the Revolutionary War. He married Catherine Conrad and they were parents of ten children.

In about 1800 John Jr and Christian along with their families moved to Nicholas County, Kentucky. They could have traveled the road through the Cumberland Gap, following the route of Daniel Boone some thirty years before. John Jr. died in Kentucky at age 90.

One of John's and Catherine's sons was David Sears. He married first in Kentucky, on September 26, 1811 to Anna Kern. She was the mother of seven children including twins who died in infancy. Before Anna's death in 1824, the family had moved to Lawrence County, Indiana. David Sears married again on October 1, 1824 to Hannah Rainey Morris. She was a widow and the mother of three children. Her father was Joseph Rainey, a veteran of the Revolutionary War. David and Hannah began their marriage with a family of eight children (his 5 and her 3) and they had eight more children. After Hannah's death in 1849, David married for the third time, in 1850 to Rachel Adamson Cox, who was the widow of Simon Cox. David and Rachel had two children before his death in 1864. David Sears was a pioneer in Lawrence County, Indiana. He owned a considerable amount of land. He was the father of 17 children and had three step-children.

Rainey Sears was the son of David and Hannah Rainey Sears. He was the fourth of their eight children. On January 22, 1853, he married Telitha Cox in Lawrence County, Indiana (See Cox Family History).

On November 19, 1850, Rainey bought land from his father, David, and third wife, Rachel, consisting of Section 22, which was one mile S.W. of Fayetteville, Indian Creek Township, Indiana and also land in Section 27, Spice Valley township.

Rainey served in the Civil War and is thought to have lost a brother at Lookout Mountain, Tennessee. After the war, Rainey moved his family to Bollinger County, Missouri. The family consisted of Rainey, Telitha, and six children. Between 1900 and 1906, Rainey, Telitha, and all their children and families moved to Fisher, Arkansas. A grandson, Arthur Sears, who was born in 1900, remembers the women and children riding on a train. The men drove the wagons. He remembers his Grandfather, Rainey, as being very religious and very tight with his money. He did not trust banks and always carried his money with him or buried it. When he traveled, he always wore old clothes and looked unkept, so no one would think he had any money. Some people think one of his grandsons found some of the money Rainey had buried. Rainey and Telitha both died in 1911. They are buried in Balch Cemetery, Balch, Jackson co, Arkansas.

Rainey's son, Charles Washington Sears, married first on April 24, 1879 in Bollinger County, Missouri to Rebecca Fowler. They had a family of eight children. Rebecca died in 1899 in Missouri. Charles and his eight children moved with the rest of the Sears families to Fisher, Jackson County, Arkansas. They were loggers and worked clearing the timber in the Mississippi River Delta section of Arkansas. The trees were large and the land was swampy. At times it took three teams of oxen to get a tree out. Charles owned Sears and Manning Saw Milling Company with his brother-in-law. He and his sons owned and operated Sears and Sons Show Tent, a tent and projector to show movies. That must have been an unusual sight in a small town in the early 1900s.

Before 1909, Charles married a second time to Minnie Smith, who was still in her teens, while Charles was in his late 40s (See Smith Family History). Charles and Minnie were the parents of two children, Oma born in 1911 and Marion born in 1916. Shortly after Marion's birth, Charles and Minnie were divorced. After the divorce, Charles lived with his son, Rainey until his death from influenza in 1919. At the time of Charles's death, Rainey's family lived in Augusta, Arkansas. We have been told that they lived in a house boat on the White River. Charles is buried in Augusta Memorial Park Cemetery.

Oma lived with her father until his death, then with her mother for awhile and finally with her older half sister, Meda. Oma's family consisted of half brothers and half sisters in her father's first family who were older than Oma's mother and a half brother and half sisters in her Mother's second family some of whom were younger than Oma's older children.

Evidently the Sears family kept some of their Germanic heritage and language. Oma remembered that her father, Charles, subscribed to a German language newspaper from Vincennes, Indiana and supported Germany in World War I until the United States entered the war. Then he stopped subscribing to the newspaper and supported the United States completely.

Agnes Dinkins McLemore remembers in late 1939 or early 1940 when her family was visiting relatives. We think this was at the home of her mother's cousin Lem Sears. There was an elderly man with a white beard listening to a radio and telling what was happening in Germany. This may have been Rainey's brother, William who was Lem's father. He would have been in his late 70's. Agnes remembers how intently he was listening and how interested he was in what was happening in Germany.

In 1927, Oma Sears married James Reed Dinkins. (See Dinkins Family History)"

*Willis Edwin Sears' obituary reads as follows:

W.E. Sears Passed Away Yesterday At John Runner Ranch A huge circle of friends within the Platte valley were grieved yesterday to learn that W.E. Sears, for more than 50 years a resident of this section of the county, had passed away. Death came about 11:30 a.m. and probably was the result of a stroke suffered Tuesday while at the ranch home of his granddaughter, Mrs. John Runner. As had been his daily custom for some time, Mr. Sears had gone from his home in town to the Runner ranch, and indulging another habit, he had lately formed had left the house and started to his car where he intended to rest and listen to his radio. He had suffered a stroke about a year ago which left him in a semi-crippled condition, and Mrs. Ed Scriven, employed at the ranch, had assisted him out of the house toward his car. After leaving the house, Mr. Sears told Mrs. Scriven he could go on uinassisted and she returned indoors. A few moments later hearing someone calling faintly, Mrs. Scriven went to the door and saw Mr. Sears laying on the ground. He had fallen before reaching his car. He was immediately placed in bed at the ranch and a doctor was called. He complained of his right hip paining him, and treatment was admisnistered to ease his pain. He fell asleep soon after, and yesterday morning was found to be in a coma. The doctor was again summoned, and it was learned that the end was swiftly nearing. Willis Edwin Sears was a few months past 79 years of age. He was born in Callao, Missouri August 5, 1861. His mother passed away while he was a small child. He spent his boyhood in his native state, and then reaching young manhood, migrated west. He was 20 years old when he arrived in Wyoming, and worked first as a stage driver on the route from Rawlins to Snake River. A short time later he moved to the Platte valley and worked on various ranches, including the pioneer A.H. Huston ranch on Cow Creek, now known as the Silver Spur Ranch. He then purchased what is now the Andrew Anderson ranch on Cow Creek, and on January 24, 1895, took as his bride Miss Minnie M. Huston, daughter of his former employer, Albert H. Huston. Mr. and Mrs. Sears operated the ranch for 25 years, then sold out and moved to California to make their home. Within a year, however, Mr. Sears began to miss the open country, the smell of sage, and the bracing air of the mountains, and he and his family returned to the valley. On their return they purchased the L.G. Sterett ranch, the place now operated by his granddaughter and her husband, Mr. & Mrs. Runner, and entered the purebred Hereford breeding business. Mr. & Mrs. Sears made their home on this ranch for many years, during which time, applying an interest and energy characteristic to many of then men of his time. Mr. Sears made an enviable reputation as a breeder of high quality cattle and accumulated a comfortable fortune. Some years ago a comfortable home was built and occupied in Saratoga, but Mr. Sears never lost his interest inthe ranch and remained heavily interested in the business until he retired about five years ago. In later years he was associated with his son-in-law Stewart McPhail. A short time ago, Mr. Runner took over, the ranch and is now operating it. but to the last Mr. Sears was happiest when close to his beloved Herfords and was almost a daily visitor to the ranch. Mr. Sears is survived by his widow: an only daughter, Mrs. Marvin Reid of Cedar creek: three granddaughters, Mrs. Lawrence Heedham of Cow creek, Mrs. John Runner; and Miss Margaret McPhail, and four great grandsons and two great granddaughters; also two half sisters, Mrs. W.E. Ashley and Mrs. Effie Wright of California, and a brother, Rev. Wm. Sears who resides in Missouri. Funeral services will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 at the Saratoga Presbyterian church, Rev. D.N. Shotwell in charge. Interment will be in the Saratoga cemetery .

*The obituary of Mrs. Minnie (Huston) Sears reads as follows:

When she was a small child of only five years, her parents, Mr. & Mrs. A.H. Huston, moved tothe Cow creek section of the valley, where she grew to young womanhood. She was married to Willis E. Sears in Saratoga on Jan 23, 1895 and the couple entered the ranching business which they continued until Mr. Sears retired many years ago. They then built a fine bungalow home in Saratoga, where they resided until Mr. Sears death. The home was later sold to Howard Corpening, and Mrs. Sears had made her home since in the former Frank Schilt residence which she purchased. Deceased is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Frances Reid, whoresides at Lazy River Ranch; three grandchilsren, Mrs. Lawrence Needham and Mrs. John Runner of Saratoga and Mrs. Dwight Runner of Encampment; one sister, Mrs. Anna Turnbull of Saratoga, and two brothers, Otto Huston of Walden, Colo., and Frank Huston of Encampment. Also eight grandchildren and two great grandchildren. Mrs. Sears father, A.H. Huston, was among the earliest settlers inthis portion of the Platte valley, and gained considerable reputation as an expert rifle marksman. During his earlier days in Wyoming he hunted for a livelihood, working for the Overland Stages with headquarters at Old Virginia Dale. He moved to Laramie in the middle 1860's where he was married, and to the Platte valley in the later 1870's. Thomas "Bottom" Sears-2124 was born on 25 Dec 1785 in King And Queen, VA. He died after 6 Jul 1870 in Randolph co, MO.

Contrib Helen Alderson Boswell
Moberly, MO

Helen believes Thomas is the son of Henry "Harry" Sears, SP May, pp 613. John Sears pp 612 died in Randolph county, MO and is buried in an old cemetery (DAR marked grave), known as Hurt Cemetery. It is all unfenced and has been in pastureland. She suspects "Harry" is buried there too. She has a copy of Thomas Sears' will, written 1 Jul 1788. Of his 5 sons, 4 are said to have served in the Revolution, but there is no record of service.

Helen is not sure of the ages of all children or where they were born as the Sears lived in Warren Co, KY and moved to IL and back to KY before coming to MO ca 1829-30. They moved to Macon Co ca 1852. In the winter of 1848-49 they lost three of their children within two weeks from mumps, Matilda, Neta and

Andrew. This left Andrew's daughters orphans and they were raised by grandparents Sears. Andrew's will was filed 29 Dec 184
